You can make a world of difference to people like Natasha

Natasha's mother was sent from one clinic to the next when her precious daughter got sick at just two years old. She was seriously ill by the time she arrived at Mulanje Mission Hospital, a facility supported by Will Relief Scotland charity, EMMS International.

Thanks to support like yours the hospital had the staff and facilities to care for Natasha and to provide follow-up care at home.

Without this specialist care Natasha may never have woken from her coma, but now she is a bright, smiling young girl.

Her mother needs the ongoing support of the hospital and staff to give Natasha the specialist care she needs. By making a donation to Will Relief Scotland you are ensuring there will always be someone there for children like Natasha. Thank you.

Make your Will and help those who have so little.

A Will is the only way to guarantee that your estate is distributed as you wish, and helps avoid expensive inheritance tax duties.

Each year in September, Will Relief offers you the chance to have your Will drawn up professionally by a participating Scottish solicitor who has generously agreed to provide their time and expertise free of charge.

Instead of paying for your Will, you will be asked to make a donation to Will Relief Scotland, a group of four Scottish charities working with people from some of the world's poorest communities.

You are invited to make a donation at the suggested level of:

£80 for a single Will which can equip 4 households with essential household items.

£120 for mirror Wills which can provide 80 Indian orphans with nourishing meals for 3 months.

£50 for a codicil which can provide a water filter for a family.
